

The Richard Bernstein Advisors Global Dividend Kings® Portfolio is a unit investment trust (UIT) which seeks total return through a combination of dividend income and capital appreciation; however, there is no assurance the objective will be met. A UIT is an investment vehicle which consists of a professionally selected unmanaged portfolio of securities which are held for a predetermined period of time. The value of the units of the trust will fluctuate each day with the value of the underlying securities; therefore it is possible to lose money by investing in the trust. The stocks are selected for the trust by Richard Bernstein Advisors (RBA) using a comprehensive process and held for approximately two years.

PORTFOLIO SELECTION PROCESS

RBA's quantitative techniques seek income in a risk-controlled process. RBA starts with the companies listed on the MSCI ACWI Index. This index captures large and mid-cap representation across 23 developed and 23 emerging market countries.

From this universe, RBA then screens for companies that have increased their trailing 12-month dividend each year for the previous 5 years. Special dividends are not included. The highest yielding stocks are removed, as they tend to be most susceptible to dividend cuts.

RBA then uses a proprietary optimization method to weight the stocks. This final step attempts to reduce the volatility of the overall portfolio, while maximizing the yield.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS

An investment in this unmanaged unit investment trust should be made with an understanding of the risks involved with owning common stocks, such as an economic recession and the possible deterioration of either the financial condition of the issuers of the equity securities or the general condition of the stock market.

An investment in a portfolio containing small-cap and mid-cap companies is subject to additional risks, as the share prices of small-cap companies and certain mid-cap companies are often more volatile than those of larger companies due to several factors, including limited trading volumes, products, financial resources, management inexperience and less publicly available information.

An investment in a portfolio containing equity securities of foreign issuers is subject to additional risks, including currency fluctuations, political risks, withholding, the lack of adequate financial information, and exchange control restrictions impacting foreign issuers. Risks associated with investing in foreign securities may be more pronounced in emerging markets where the securities markets are substantially smaller, less developed, less liquid, less regulated, and more volatile than the U.S. and developed foreign markets.

Certain of the securities in the portfolio are issued by Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs). Companies involved in the real estate industry are subject to changes in the real estate market, vacancy rates and competition, volatile interest rates and economic recession.

This UIT is a buy and hold strategy and investors should consider their ability to hold the trust until maturity. There may be tax consequences unless units are purchased in an IRA or other qualified plan.

The value of the securities held by the trust may be subject to steep declines or increased volatility due to changes in performance or perception of the issuers.
