Factoids for the week of May 11-15, 2015

Monday, May 11, 2015

Birinyi Associates Inc. reported that U.S. companies announced $$ 141$ billion of new stock buyback programs in April, up 121\% from the amount announced in April 2014, and the highest monthly total ever recorded, according to The Wall Street Journal. Birinyi notes that buyback announcements are on pace to reach $$ 1.2$ trillion in 2015. The all-time high was set in 2007, at $$ 863$ billion.
Companies that initiate buyback programs are not obligated to max them out. In 2014, companies repurchased $$ 677.5$ billion worth of stock, or $81 \%$ of their authorized amount.

Tuesday, May 12, 2015

The top 25 hedge fund managers, by compensation, took home $$ 11.62$ billion in 2014, and 12 of them posted gains in the single digits, according ThinkAdvisor.com. The S&P 500 posted a total return of 13.69\% in 2014. The average pay for the top 25 managers was $$ 467$ million, down from $$ 846$ million in 2013. Hedge funds, on average, underperformed the broader stock market in each of the past six years. A composite index of 2,200 hedge fund portfolios collected by HFR, which tracks the industry, gained just $3 \%$ in 2014.

Wednesday, May 13, 2015

Moody's reported that the global speculative-grade default rate stood at 2.2\% in April, down from 2.3\% in March, according to its own release. Moody's is forecasting a default rate of $2.6 \%$ for December 2015. The historical average for the default rate on global speculative-grade debt has been $4.5 \%$ since 1983. The U.S. speculative-grade default rate stood at $1.7 \%$ in April, down from 2.0\% in March (revised up from 1.9\%). The default rate on senior loans stood at $0.72 \%$ in April, up from $0.61 \%$ in March, but below the historical average of $2.87 \%$, according to Standard & Poor's LCD.

Thursday, May 14, 2015

From $12 / 31 / 13-3 / 31 / 15$, the FTSE NAREIT All Equity REITs Index posted a total return of $33.12 \%$, well above the $14.77 \%$ gain posted by the S&P 500. Equity REITs, however, are down $5.61 \%$ since the end of March (as of 5/13). Jeffrey Langbaum, senior REIT analyst at Bloomberg, cited the release of some negative economic indicators in April, including a weak GDP number for Q1'15, as the cause of the recent pullback in REIT prices, according to REIT.com. Michael Hudgins, managing director and global strategist with Ell Capital Management, notes that demand for real estate bears strong correlations with GDP growth and employment rates, according to REIT.com. Hudgins also notes that cash flows tend to rise late in the cycle. He sees a strong second half of the year for REITs.

Friday, May 15, 2015

Edition of Dalbar's Quantitative Analysis of Investor Behavior reveals that equity fund investors, on average, have consistently earned returns significantly below those posted by the S&P 500, according to its own release. The following total returns were cited and were as of the close of 2014 (Equity Fund Investors vs. S&P 500): 1-Yr. (5.50\% vs. 13.69\%); 3-Yr. Avg. Annual (14.82\% vs. 20.41\%); 5-Yr. Avg. Annual (10.19\% vs. 15.45\%); 10-Yr. Avg. Annual (5.26\% vs. 7.67\%); 20-Yr. Avg. Annual (5.19\% vs. 9.85\%) and 30-Yr. Avg. Annual (3.79\% vs. 11.06\%). Dalbar notes that underperformance tends to stem from bad investor decisions at critical points, such as during severe market declines and when the market surges.
